---Hon. I. W. Case, and Mr. Robb, of this city, and Mr. Allen of Fort Stevens, returned from Portland and the sound yesterday.

---Yesterday we observed a "stall-wart" striding along the streets barefooted—but he was a happy son of the forest, as he wore a new oil-skin. How that fellow's pleasure would be coveted by the stalwarts in Washington thought we; not a care ruffles his mind.
---Old Smith has been arrested for making the spurious $2 50 pieces found upon his girl, and he "owns up." If spirits told the old rascal to do this, they must have been evil spirits. We are confirmed now in our belief that he was an old humbug when at Astoria. All such fellows are curses to the cause which they pretend to serve, unless it be that of a felon.

'Rah for the Fourth of July!

This is the game cock, festive and gay, that will crow three times at break of day, on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

Here is the chicken all plumed and spurred, that will fight at sight any other bird, on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

We've got money to "ante" that that this rooster can lick, any bird in the valley, and do it quick, on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

For his spurs are steel, his tail's a streamer, his eyes flash fire, he's a regular screamer, "and don't you forget it," on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

If any other town of our size has got a chick, and will bring him down here this bird will pick, his eyes out quicker than sight, fair and square in a stand-up fight, early on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

Look at his shape, have you got any sense? Don't you see he's on it in the subjective tense! Look at his get-up, observe his comb; if you've got any pullets, keep them at home, on the Fourth of July in Astoria.

We've said all now we have to say—but merely add in a quiet way, if you've any notion of courting a fray, and think your chicken can bring to bay, our chicken on our natal day, whet up his spurs and sharpen his bill, stroke down his tail and run him up hill, come along early without delay, our rooster won't fight any other day, but the Fourth of July in Astoria.

Just look at the programme and make up your minds that the Fourth of July will be celebrated in Astoria A. D. 1879. The citizens committee, and the Sky-high-flyers Dufunny Boys have spread out a bill of fare equal to anything in the state. The various committees on the part of the citizens consist of the following named well-known gentlemen:

Dr. Aug. C. Kinney on oration, reader and chaplain.
Mr. P. W. McGrath on regatta.
Mr. L. D. Coffman on liberty car.
Mr. C. H. Stockton on place for exercises and base ball.

Mr. B. S. Worsley secretary of the committee, and committee on balloon and fireworks, sack and foot races, and to whom all communications must be addressed in regard to the celebration.

Messrs. John Fox, P. W. McGrath, C. H. Stockton, M. D. Kant, B. S. Worsley, on finance.
Mr. Carl Adler, treasurer of the committee.

The managing committee consists of Dr. Aug. C. Kinney, P. W. McGrath, L. D. Coffman, C. H. Stockton, and B. S. Worsley.

The funny part of the celebration is exclusively under the management of I. M. Gross Mogul grand marshal, I. M. Kline Mogul, assistant marshal, and I. M. A. Plotter, secretary of the Sky-high-fly Dufunny's.

The committee of arrangements for the celebration, desire us state that 38 young Misses are wanted to represent the States of the Union and one young lady to represent the Goddess of Liberty in the Liberty car, in the procession, and request that all wishing to take part will please leave their names with Mrs. Steers, immediately.

No bill, moneys for prizes, etc., will be paid out by any of the committees on the day of the celebration, but the committees will give orders on the managing committee, which will be presented to the treasurer, on the day following, when the same will be paid.

A Grand Idea for the Hungry.

A printing press has been imported to appear in the sky-high-flyers dufunny procession in this city, on the 4th of July, and will be at work as the procession moves, printing checks for meals for the hungry multitude.

The Big Gun.

One of the guns which was used at the siege of Paris, the famous Kupers, will be hauled in procession in Astoria, on the 4th. It was taken off the Sidi, when she struck Sand Island. This time it will be charged with "nix-nax," for the children. Bless the little ones; the world would be a blank without them; but the Sky-high-flyer Dufunny's are looking out for their pleasure on next Friday. It will be "Good Friday" for them, sure!

---We have had a conversation with Capt. Hoyt concerning the apparent slight to Astorians on the Puget sound excursion. We are satisfied that the occurrence was unavoidable, in consequence of the fact that the telegraph wires were down and communication cut off the day before. Capt. Hoyt informs us that General Sprague was present himself at Kalama, and rendered the excursionists every possible accommodation, in fact those going by the last train were more comfortable and less crowded than most of those going by the first train.

Concerning the New Steam Fire Engine.

EDITOR ASTORIAN: I see in your paper of the 26th June a communication from Mr. Runcy, the chairman of the committee on fire and water, concerning the actions of the two committees—the committee on fire and water, with the acting chief engineer, Mr. Ferchen, as Mr. Trenchard, our chief engineer, was absent from the city, and the committee from Engine Company No. 1, where their report appears in full in the communication as it was given in, as requested by the chairman of the committee on fire and water. But did the committee grant the request of No. 1? No, but engaged a third-class, straight-framed engine, which could not be turned on our sixteen-foot roadway. Therefore the foreman, in presence of Mr. John Hahn, one of the committee on fire and water, told Mr. Everson to await with his order for the engine, as it was not what we wanted. And Mr. Hahn and Mr. Wilhelm said: "Get a petition up, and we will raise the four hundred dollars;" which I did, and Mr. Hahn started the petition by placing his name on it and subscribing $25, and said he would give more if needed (still he is not a member of our company), and from that the petition started, and in less than four hours the four hundred dollars was raised and the petition presented to the chairman of the committee on fire and water; but he would not accept it and change the order, when such men as G. W. Hume, Captain George Flavel, John Hahn, A. Van Dusen, E. Ferchen, Wilhelm, Jas. W. Welch, D. C. Ireland, G. W. and W. W. and H. B. and C. L. Parker, E. S. Larsen and many others had signed for different sums; but Mr. John Hahn and Mr. James W. Welch had to give their guarantee for the payment of the four hundred dollars, so that the company could get what they wanted, which was a second class double plunger engine. But the paltry sum of four hundred dollars was the only difference between it and the third class straight-framed single plunger engine; yet still the chairman objected till the guarantee was given—and now you see the result, as the citizens came to our relief. And as for the action of the foreman, it was not that he cares to head the company after August if the company see fit to give another place, but to do his duty to the company and the citizens of the city by urging that the engine be got here as soon as possible. The chairman wanted to write to the company, which would have taken a month at least, and then we would be in just the same fix, as they would send their agent; and the telegram was paid for by the company, which I consider was thirty days gained. And everybody knows well that No. 1's company have always worked under difficulties. Why? Because they have taken everything and said nothing. It is time they were having some assistance, as they have stuck to the old condemned hand engine for nine years, which they have asked to have repaired and a new suction given them time and again, but could not get it; and still they are blamed when the engine will not work—when there are some four or five holes in the suction, which suck more wind than water.
No one has censured the committee as a committee; but one of the committee has worked great hardships to both committees and the members of the company by his stubbornness, when he should be the last man to say anything, but let the boys have all that they ask for that is in reason. May-be he has forgotten the fire of June 2, 1877, but the boys have not; and the foreman will still urge that quick dispatch be had in getting the engine here for service.
JOHN W. WELCH, Foreman.
